CORPORATE EXPERIENCE

Fleet Maintenance Manager, Pilgrim's Pride Corp., Athens, GA, 2010-2013

- Managed 150 +/- pieces of rolling stock and 15 employees
- Trimmed critical inventories by 60%+
- Reduced personnel by 11% and reduced overtime by 13% resulting in annual savings of $100K
- Significantly reduced service calls by addressing most frequent breakdowns and implementing corrective action plans
- Maintained safety and equipment records according to Pilgrim's and DOT standards

Hatchery Manager, Pilgrim's Pride Corp., Athens, GA, 1998-2006

- Managed hatchery operations for 1.6MM egg set per week with 55 employees
- Controlled egg inventories by buying and selling eggs as necessary to maintain proper age and inventory
- Continuously looked for ways to improve chick quality and hatch quantity, keying in on 7 day mortality and residue breakouts. Took hatch projections to book farm placements.
- Gathered quotes and calculated paybacks for capital expenses, such as automation, HVAC, vehicles, hatchery expansions, and various other projects. The largest project came in ahead of schedule and within the budget of $750,000.
- Maintain an annual budget of over $18MM
- Countless hours and hard work took us from a bottom 25% performing hatchery to a top 25% performing hatchery as measured by Agristats, an industry statistical company
- Made numerous professional relationships where I was often asked for advice and counted on to lead discussions and give lectures on various hatchery topics. Lectured on several occasions at Cobb Vantress round table meetings, University of Georgia poultry conferences, and at intercompany hatchery manager meetings
- My steadfast integrity would allow me to sell eggs to outside venders at more than 30% of what the markets were bringing

Darrius W. Tompkins

Stephens, GA. 30667 |

- Ensured safety was always a top priority by tracking MSDS literature, writings SOPS and holding monthly safety meetings stressing safe work habits
- Coordinated maintenance and proper operation of hatchers, incubators, and all other equipment
- Ordered and maintained parts, chemical and supply inventories via SAP system.
- Managed up to 9 drivers, maintaining records complying with DOT rules to keep drivers safe within guidelines

Objective

My many years in the financial industry, servicing a diverse client base, places me in a unique position to impact old and new laws related to the fiscal concerns of middle America. My objective is to guide and create conservative and balanced legislature that focuses on positive financial outcomes and increased opportunities for my constituents. I would also seek to increase community involvement and impact through regular communication with those I represent. Progress comes with frequent and open discussion so we can develop solutions together.

[REDACTED]

Citizenship: United States. Born Macon, GA. [REDACTED]

Position Desired: balance term U. S. Senate Seat (Johnny Isakson)

Highest Federal Civilian Grade: NA

Top Security Clearance: Inventory, U.S. Naval Ordnance Plant circa 1968

Summary of Qualifications:

Parallels why I voted for Donald Trump; I'm not one of them. Like former House Speaker Newt Gingrich and U.S. Senator Zell Miller, I have an education and inclination in the study of History. Like French Geographer Christophe Guilluy, I am an observer of change(s) wrought by globalization. Like the former president of the Czech Republic, Vaclav Havel, I view the challenge to freedom as formidable and never ending.

Education:

BA Leconte School of History, Franklin College, University of Georgia, Athens, GA.

Continuing Education: Radio Advertising Bureau School for Salesman, Rutgers, NJ

Post Graduate Studies in Business /Marketing, Mercer University, Atlanta, GA

Noteworthy Readings:

The Rise and Fall of Great Powers, Paul Kennedy. Economic Change and Military Conflict 1500 to 2000. Observation: the industrial capacity of the United States in the years from WWI thru WWII rivaled that of the major powers.

Twilight of the Elites, Christophe Guillay, English translation 2018 Yale University Press. A French geographer describes the effect of globalization on France and notes the parallel change(s) taking place in America.

Observation: The radio broadcast of the University of Georgia game proclaimed Georgia's $70-Billion Dollar agricultural industry. Yet The Atlanta Journal Constitution story noted the plight of Georgia's blueberry farmers competing with low-cost berries from Mexico while The Wall Street Journal described the plight of Michigan's cherry growers competing with imported berries from Turkey.

Trend: Globalization will do to Georgia (American) agriculture what it is doing / has done to American manufacturing. For example: the little oranges my daughter bought at the grocery store in Cincinnati (corporate HQ of Kroger) were from Peru.

Work Experience

WIBB Radio, Macon, Georgia circa 1971-1975 Legacy Black Radio Station

WFNE Radio, Forsyth, GA. Station Manager circa 1976

Atlanta Journal Constitution, Advertising Sales, Atlanta, GA 1977
Media Consultants, Account Executive, Atlanta, GA 1978
Bowen Media Graphics, Account Executive, Atlanta, GA 1978-1998
John Wald Fetner and Associates, Advertising Agency 1996-2018
Currently semi-retired doing project work and website analytics

Readings on American History (partial listing)

Common Sense, Thomas Paine, who we are, why we fought
Franklin: The First American, H. W. Brands
Thomas Jefferson and the Tripoli Pirates, Brian Kilmeade /Dan Yaeger
The War of 1812, The War that forged a Nation, Walter R. Borneman
American Lion: Andrew Jackson, Jon Meacham
Partial reading of Lincoln: The War Years Carl Sandburg
The Forgotten Conservative: Grover Cleveland (post war) John Pafford
The War that Ended Peace (WWI) Margaret MacMillian
The Forgotten Man (Great Depression) Amity Shlaes
The Greatest Generation, Tom Brokaw. Story of my father's WWII generation

Perspective: the writer of the Book of Deuteronomy described the blessings and curses that would befall a nation. The historian Paul Kennedy noted the fear that Admiral Yamamoto had of the manufacturing capabilities of the United States. As a young man, (circa 1960) I remember back-to-school shopping with my Mother and how every product in every store was made in USA from my Levi Jeans to my US Keds. After a fire destroyed our Atlanta home, (circa 2002) my children returned from the mall, cash in hand, unable to find anything in any store Made in USA.

The challenges facing American freedom are many: The influence of the progressive agenda on children, culture and education; the power of the digital elite and control over information; the economic devastation to American communities by globalization; the attack on American industry and natural resources; the re-emergence of The China Road, a more powerful Russia, and militant Islam.

Personal: Married to Beverly Burd Fetner, Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia Tech, Atlanta. Father to 6 children, grandfather to 8. Member: Atlanta's First Baptist Church. Founder: Grant Park Baseball. Last place 2005 San Francisco Marathon. Ran Boston Marathon 2009. Augusta Half Ironman 2010, 2011, Macon Half 2014. First Place (age group) Atlanta (Half) Marathon 2019, Macon Labor Day Race 2019.

Willing to Serve. If allowed this honor, I will faithfully serve to the best of my ability. In my family's history is a record of service in both U.S. Senate and the White House. I am an observer of things political, old enough to have once sat at the feet of Nicholas von Hoffman, wise enough to find myself more often than not in agreement with James Kilpatrick! I have attended conventions of the Georgia Democratic Party, State and Fulton County GOP. I favor the politics of days gone by when the Whigs contested with the Democrats over competing visions of how to Make America Great.
