A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT

1	To amend Code Section 19-6-15, relating to child support guidelines for determining amount
2	of award, continuation of duty of support, and duration of support, so as to revise and correct
3	defined terms and terminology, grammar, and punctuation; to remove alimony as a specific
4	deviation in certain circumstances; to exclude certain adoption assistance benefits from gross
5	income; to clarify provisions relating to willful or voluntary unemployment or
6	underemployment; to provide for related matters; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other
7	purposes.
8	BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:
9	SECTION 1.
10	Code Section 19-6-15, relating to child support guidelines for determining amount of award,
11	continuation of duty of support, and duration of support, is amended by revising subsection
12	(a) as follows:
13	"(a) Definitions. As used in this Code section, the term:
14	(1) Reserved.
15	(2) 'Adjusted income' means the determination of a parent's monthly income, calculated
16	by deducting from that parent's monthly gross income one-half of the amount of any
17	applicable self-employment taxes being paid by the parent, any preexisting order for 18	current child support which is being paid by the parent, and any theoretical child support
19	order for other qualified children, if allowed by the court. For further reference see
20	paragraph (5) of subsection (f) of this Code section.
21	(3) 'Basic child support obligation' means the monthly amount of support displayed on
22	the child support obligation table which corresponds to the combined adjusted income
23	and the number of children for whom child support is being determined.

25	(5) Reserved.

(6) 'Child support obligation table' means the chart set forth in subsection (o) of this Code section.

34 (9) 'Custodial parent' means the parent with whom the child resides more than 50 percent 35 of the time. Where When a custodial parent has not been designated or where when a child resides with both parents an equal amount of time, the court shall designate the 36 37 custodial parent as the parent with the lesser support obligation and the other parent as 38 the noncustodial parent. Where When the child resides equally with both parents and 39 neither parent can be determined as owing a greater amount than the other, the court shall 40 determine which parent to designate as the custodial parent for the purpose of this Code 41 section.

(10) 'Deviation' means an increase or decrease from the presumptive amount of child support if the presumed order is rebutted by evidence and the required findings of fact are made by the court or the jury pursuant to subsection (i) of this Code section.

45 (11) 'Final child support amount' means the presumptive amount of child support46 adjusted by any deviations.

47 (12) 'Gross income' means all income to be included in the calculation of child support48 as set forth in subsection (f) of this Code section.

(14) 'Noncustodial parent' means the parent with whom the child resides less than 50 percent of the time or the parent who has the greater payment obligation for child support.
Where When the child resides equally with both parents and neither parent can be determined as owing a lesser amount than the other, the court shall determine which parent to designate as the noncustodial parent for the purpose of this Code section.

(15) 'Nonparent custodian' means an individual who has been granted legal custody of a child, or an individual who has a legal right to seek, modify, or enforce a child support order.

59 (16) 'Parent' means a person who owes a child a duty of support pursuant to Code60 Section 19-7-2.

- 61 (17) 'Parenting time deviation' means a deviation allowed for the noncustodial parent 62 based upon the noncustodial parent's court ordered visitation with the child. For further reference see subsections (g) and (i) of this Code section. 63 64 (18) 'Preexisting order' means: (A) An order in another case that requires a parent to make child support payments for 65 another child, which child support the parent is actually paying, as evidenced by 66 67 documentation as provided in division (f)(5)(B)(iii) of this Code section; and 68 (B) That the date and time of filing with the clerk of court of the initial order for each 69 such other case is earlier than the date and time of filing with the clerk of court of the 70 initial order in the case immediately before the court, regardless of the age of any child 71 in any of the cases. 72 (19) 'Presumptive amount of child support' means the basic child support obligation 73 including health insurance and work related child care costs. 74 (20) 'Qualified child' or 'qualified children' means any child: 75 (A) For whom the parent is legally responsible and in whose home the child resides; (B) Who That the parent is actually supporting; 76 77 (C) Who is not subject to a preexisting order; and 78 (D) Who is not before the court to set, modify, or enforce support in the case 79 immediately under consideration. 80 Qualified children shall not include stepchildren or other minors in the home that who the 81 parent has no legal obligation to support. 82 (21) 'Split parenting' can occur in a child support case only if there are two or more 83 children of the same parents, where when one parent is the custodial parent for at least 84 one child of the parents, and the other parent is the custodial parent for at least one other 85 child of the parents. In a split parenting case, each parent is the custodial parent of any 86 child spending more than 50 percent of the time with that parent and is the noncustodial parent of any child spending more than 50 percent of the time with the other parent. A 87 split parenting situation shall have two custodial parents and two noncustodial parents, 88 89 but no child shall have more than one custodial parent or noncustodial parent. 90 (22) 'Theoretical child support order' means a hypothetical child support order for qualified children as calculated as set forth in subparagraph (f)(5)(C) of this Code section 91 92 which allows the court to determine the amount of child support as if a child support 93 order existed.
- 94 (23) 'Uninsured health care expenses' means a child's uninsured medical expenses
 95 including, but not limited to, health insurance copayments, deductibles, and such other 96 costs as are reasonably necessary for orthodontia, dental treatment, asthma treatments, 97 physical therapy, vision care, and any acute or chronic medical or health problem or

98 mental health illness, including counseling and other medical or mental health expenses, 99 that are not covered by insurance. For further reference see paragraph (3) of 100 subsection (h) of this Code section.

101 (24) 'Work related child care costs' means expenses for the care of the child for whom support is being determined which are due to employment of either parent. In an 102 103 appropriate case, the court may consider the child care costs associated with a parent's job 104 search or the training or education of a parent necessary to obtain a job or enhance 105 earning potential, not to exceed a reasonable time as determined by the court, if the parent 106 proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the job search, job training, or education 107 will benefit the child being supported. The term shall be projected for the next 108 consecutive 12 months and averaged to obtain a monthly amount. For further reference 109 see paragraph (1) of subsection (h) of this Code section.

(25) 'Worksheet' or 'child support worksheet' means the document used to record information necessary to determine and calculate monthly child support. For further reference see subsection (m) of this Code section."

113

Said Code section is further amended by revising paragraph (4) of subsection (c) as follows:
"(4) In all cases, the parties shall submit to the court their worksheets and schedules and the presence or absence of other factors to be considered by the court or the jury pursuant to the provisions of this Code section."

SECTION 2.

118

119 Said Code section is further amended by revising subsection (d) as follows:

120 "(d) Nature of guidelines; court's discretion. In the event of a hearing or trial on the 121 issue of child support, the guidelines enumerated in this Code section are intended by the General Assembly to be guidelines only and any court so applying these such guidelines 122 shall not abrogate its responsibility in making the final determination of child support based 123 124 on the evidence presented to it at the time of the hearing or trial. A court's final determination of child support shall take into account the obligor's earnings, income, and 125 other evidence of the obligor's ability to pay. The court or the jury shall also consider the 126 basic subsistence needs of the parents and the child for whom support is to be provided." 127

128

SECTION 4.

129 Said Code section is further amended by revising subparagraph (f)(1)(E); paragraph (2) of 130 subsection (f); subparagraphs (f)(4)(A), (f)(4)(B), and (f)(4)(D); division (f)(5)(B)(i); and 131 subparagraph (f)(5)(C) as follows:

- "(E) Military compensation and allowances. Income for a parent who is an active 132 duty member of the regular or reserve component of the United States armed forces, the 133 United States Coast Guard, the merchant marine of the United States, the commissioned 134 135 corps of the Public Health Service or the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the National Guard, or the Air National Guard shall include: 136 137 (i) Base pay; 138 (ii) Drill pay; (iii) Basic allowance for subsistence, whether paid directly to the parent or received 139 140 in-kind; and 141 (iv) Basic allowance for housing, whether paid directly to the parent or received in-kind, determined at the parent's pay grade at the without dependent rate, but shall 142 143 include only so much of the allowance that is not attributable to area variable housing 144 costs. Except as determined by the court or the jury, special pay or incentive pay, allowances 145 146 for clothing or family separation, and reimbursed expenses related to the parent's assignment to a high cost of living location shall not be considered income for the 147 purpose of determining gross income. 148 149 (2) Exclusions from gross income. Excluded from gross income are the following: 150 (A) Child support payments received by either parent for the benefit of a child of another relationship; 151 152 (B) Benefits received from means-tested public assistance programs such as, but not 153 limited to: 154 (i) PeachCare for Kids Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families Program, or similar programs in other states or territories under Title IV-A of the federal Social 155 156 Security Act; 157 (ii) Food stamps or the value of food assistance provided by way of electronic benefits transfer procedures by the Department of Human Services; 158 (iii) Supplemental security income received under Title XVI of the federal Social 159 Security Act; 160 (iv) Benefits received under Section 402(d) of the federal Social Security Act for 161 disabled adult children of deceased disabled workers; and 162 (v) Low-income heating and energy assistance program payments; 163 (C) Foster care payments paid by the Department of Human Services or a licensed 164 child placing child-placing agency for providing foster care to a foster child in the 165 custody of the Department of Human Services; and 166
- 167 (D) A nonparent custodian's gross income; and

HB 381/AP

168 (E) Benefits received under Title IV-B or IV-E of the federal Social Security Act and state funding associated therewith for adoption assistance."

170 "(A) Imputed income. When establishing the amount of child support, if a parent fails to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior years, check stubs, 171 or other information for determining current ability to pay child support or ability to 172 pay child support in prior years, and the court or the jury has no other reliable evidence 173 of the parent's income or income potential, gross income for the current year may be 174 imputed. When imputing income, the court or the jury shall take into account the 175 176 specific circumstances of the parent to the extent known, including such factors as the parent's assets, residence, employment and earnings history, job skills, educational 177 attainment, literacy, age, health, criminal record and other employment barriers, and 178 179 record of seeking work, as well as the local job market, the availability of employers willing to hire the parent, prevailing earnings level in the local community, and other 180 relevant background factors in the case. If a parent is incarcerated, the court or the jury 181 shall not assume an ability for earning capacity based upon pre-incarceration wages or 182 other employment related income, but income may be imputed based upon the actual 183 income and assets available to such incarcerated parent. 184

185 (B) Modification. When cases with established orders are reviewed for modification 186 and a parent fails to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior 187 years, check stubs, or other information for determining current ability to pay child 188 support or ability to pay child support in prior years, and the court or the jury has no 189 other reliable evidence of such parent's income or income potential, the court or the jury 190 may impute income as set forth in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, or may increase 191 the child support of the parent failing or refusing to produce evidence of income by an 192 increment of at least 10 percent per year of such parent's gross income for each year 193 since the final order was entered or last modified and shall calculate the basic child 194 support obligation using the increased amount as such parent's gross income."

"(D) Willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment. In determining 195 whether a parent is willfully or voluntarily unemployed or underemployed, the court 196 197 or the jury shall ascertain the reasons for the parent's occupational choices and assess the reasonableness of these choices in light of the parent's responsibility to support his 198 199 or her child and whether such choices benefit the child. A determination of willful or 200 voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not be limited to occupational choices motivated only by an intent to avoid or reduce the payment of child support but 201 202 can be based on any intentional choice or act that affects a parent's income. A 203 determination of willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not be 204 made when an individual's incarceration prevents employment. In determining willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment, the court or the jury may examine whether there is a substantial likelihood that the parent could, with reasonable effort, apply his or her education, skills, or training to produce income. Specific factors for the court or the jury to consider when determining willful or voluntary unemployment or underemployment include, but are not limited to:

- 210 (i) The parent's past and present employment;
- 211 (ii) The parent's education and training;

(iii) Whether unemployment or underemployment for the purpose of pursuing additional training or education is reasonable in light of the parent's responsibility to support his or her child and, to this end, whether the training or education may ultimately benefit the child in the case immediately under consideration by increasing the parent's level of support for that child in the future;

(iv) A parent's ownership of valuable assets and resources, such as an expensive home or automobile, that appear inappropriate or unreasonable for the income claimed by the parent;

220 (v) The parent's own health and ability to work outside the home; and

(vi) The parent's role as caretaker of a child of that parent, a disabled or seriously ill 221 222 child of that parent, or a disabled or seriously ill adult child of that parent, or any 223 other disabled or seriously ill relative for whom that parent has assumed the role of 224 caretaker, which eliminates or substantially reduces the parent's ability to work outside the home, and the need of that parent to continue in the role of caretaker in the 225 226 future. When considering the income potential of a parent whose work experience is 227 limited due to the caretaker role of that parent, the court or the jury shall consider the 228 following factors:

(I) Whether the parent acted in the role of full-time caretaker immediately prior to separation by the married parties or prior to the divorce or annulment of the marriage or dissolution of another relationship in which the parent was a full-time caretaker;

(II) The length of time the parent staying at home has remained out of the workforce for this purpose;

235 (III) The parent's education, training, and ability to work; and

(IV) Whether the parent is caring for a child who is four years of age or younger.

If the court or the jury determines that a parent is willfully or voluntarily unemployed or underemployed, child support shall be calculated based on a determination of earning capacity, as evidenced by educational level or previous work experience. In the absence of any other reliable evidence, income may be imputed to the parent pursuant to a determination that gross income for the current 242 year is based on a 40 hour workweek at minimum wage as provided for in 243 subparagraph (f)(4)(A) of this Code section.

244 A determination of willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not 245 be made when an individual is activated from the National Guard or other armed forces

- unit or enlists or is drafted for full-time service in the armed forces of the United States."
- 248 "(i) In calculating the adjustment for preexisting orders, the court shall include only 249 those preexisting orders meeting the criteria set forth in subparagraph (a)(18)(B) of 250 this Code section;"
- 251 "(C) Theoretical child support orders. In addition to the adjustments to monthly gross income for self-employment taxes provided in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph 252 253 and for preexisting orders provided in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, credits for 254 either parent's other qualified child living in the parent's home for whom the parent 255 owes a legal duty of support may be considered by the court for the purpose of reducing 256 the parent's gross income. To consider a parent's other qualified children for determining the theoretical child support order, a parent shall present documentary 257 evidence of the parent-child relationship to the court. Adjustments to income pursuant 258 259 to this subparagraph may be considered in such circumstances in which the failure to 260 consider a qualified child would cause substantial hardship to the parent; provided, however, that such consideration of an adjustment shall be based upon the best interest 261 262 of the child for whom child support is being awarded. If the court, in its discretion, 263 decides to apply the qualified child adjustment, the basic child support obligation of the 264 parent for the number of other qualified children living with such parent shall be determined based upon that parent's monthly gross income. 265 Except for 266 self-employment taxes paid, no other amounts shall be subtracted from the parent's 267 monthly gross income when calculating a theoretical child support order under this subparagraph. The basic child support obligation for such parent shall be multiplied by 268 75 percent and the resulting amount shall be subtracted from such parent's monthly 269 270gross income and entered on the Child Support Schedule B – Adjusted Income."
- 271

SECTION 5.

Said Code section is further amended by revising subparagraphs (h)(1)(A) and (h)(1)(D) and division (h)(1)(F)(ii) as follows:

274 "(A) Work related child care costs necessary for the parent's employment, education, 275 or vocational training that are determined by the court to be appropriate, and that are 276 appropriate to the parents' financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child if the 277 parents and child were living together, shall be averaged for a monthly amount and entered on the child support worksheet in the column of the parent initially paying the expense. Work related child care costs of a nonparent custodian shall be considered when determining the amount of this expense."

281 "(D) If child care is provided without charge to the parent, the value of these services 282 shall not be an adjustment to the basic child support obligation. If child care is or will 283 be provided by a person who is paid for his or her services, proof of actual cost or 284 payment shall be shown to the court before the court includes such payment in its 285 consideration."

286 "(ii) In situations in which work related child care costs may be variable, the court or 287 the jury may, in its discretion, remove work related child care costs from the 288 calculation of support, and divide the work related child care costs pro rata, to be paid 289 within a time specified in the final order. If a parent or nonparent custodian fails to 290 comply with the final order:

- (I) The other parent or nonparent custodian may enforce payment of the workrelated child care costs by any means permitted by law; or
- (II) Child support services shall pursue enforcement when such unpaid costs have been reduced to a judgment in a sum certain."

295 SECTION 6.

Said Code section is further amended by revising divisions (i)(2)(B)(i) and (i)(2)(B)(viii), subparagraph (i)(2)(C), and subparagraphs (i)(2)(F) through (i)(2)(K) as follows:

- 298 "(i) If the noncustodial parent can provide evidence sufficient to demonstrate no 299 earning capacity or that his or her pro rata share of the presumptive amount of child 300 support would create an extreme economic hardship for such parent, the court or the 301 jury may consider a low-income deviation."
- 302 "(viii) If a low-income deviation is granted pursuant to this subparagraph, such 303 deviation shall not prohibit the court or the jury from granting an increase or decrease 304 to the presumptive amount of child support by the use of any other specific or 305 nonspecific deviation.

306 (C) Other health related insurance. If the court or the jury finds that either parent 307 has vision or dental insurance available at a reasonable cost for the child, the court or 308 the jury may deviate from the presumptive amount of child support for the cost of such 309 insurance."

310 "(F) Travel expenses. If court ordered visitation related travel expenses are substantial 311 due to the distance between the parents, the court may order the allocation of such costs 312 or the jury may, by a finding in its special interrogatory, allocate such costs by 313 deviation from the presumptive amount of child support, taking into consideration the circumstances of the respective parents as well as which parent moved and the reasonfor such move.

(G) Alimony. Actual payments of alimony shall not be considered as a deduction from gross income but may be considered as a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support. If the court or the jury considers the actual payment of alimony, the court shall make a written finding of such consideration or the jury, in its special interrogatory, shall make a written finding of such consideration as a basis for deviation from the presumptive amount of child support.

(H) Mortgage. If the noncustodial parent is providing shelter, such as paying the mortgage of the home, or has provided a home at no cost to the custodial parent in which the child resides, the court or the jury may allocate such costs or an amount equivalent to such costs by deviation from the presumptive amount of child support, taking into consideration the circumstances of the respective parents and the best interest of the child.

328 (I) Permanency plan or foster care plan. In cases where when the child is in the legal custody of the Department of Human Services, the child protection or foster care 329 330 agency of another state or territory, or any other child-caring entity, public or private, 331 the court or the jury may consider a deviation from the presumptive amount of child 332 support if the deviation will assist in accomplishing a permanency plan or foster care 333 plan for the child that has a goal of returning the child to the parent or parents and the 334 parent's need to establish an adequate household or to otherwise adequately prepare 335 herself or himself for the return of the child clearly justifies a deviation for this purpose. 336 (J) Extraordinary expenses. The child support obligation table includes average child rearing child-rearing expenditures for families given the parents' combined adjusted 337 338 income and number of children. Extraordinary expenses are in excess of average 339 amounts estimated in the child support obligation table and are highly variable among 340 families. Extraordinary expenses shall be considered on a case-by-case basis in the 341 calculation of support and may form the basis for deviation from the presumptive 342 amount of child support so that the actual amount of such expense is considered in the final order for only those families actually incurring the expense. Extraordinary 343 expenses shall be prorated between the parents by assigning or deducting credit for 344 345 actual payments for extraordinary expenses.

(i) Extraordinary educational expenses. Extraordinary educational expenses may be a basis for deviation from the presumptive amount of child support. Extraordinary educational expenses include, but are not limited to, tuition, room and board, lab fees, books, fees, and other reasonable and necessary expenses associated with special needs education or private elementary and secondary schooling that are appropriate

- to the parent's financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child if the parents and thechild were living together.
- 353 (I) In determining the amount of deviation for extraordinary educational expenses, 354 scholarships, grants, stipends, and other cost-reducing programs received by or on 355 behalf of the child shall be considered; and
- (II) If a deviation is allowed for extraordinary educational expenses, a monthly average of the extraordinary educational expenses shall be based on evidence of prior or anticipated expenses and entered on the Child Support Schedule E – Deviations.
- 360 (ii) Special expenses incurred for child rearing child-rearing. Special expenses incurred for child rearing child-rearing, including, but not limited to, quantifiable 361 362 expense variations related to the food, clothing, and hygiene costs of children at different age levels, may be a basis for a deviation from the presumptive amount of 363 child support. Such expenses include, but are not limited to, summer camp; music or 364 365 art lessons; travel; school sponsored extracurricular activities, such as band, clubs, and 366 athletics; and other activities intended to enhance the athletic, social, or cultural development of a child but not otherwise required to be used in calculating the 367 368 presumptive amount of child support as are health insurance premiums and work 369 related child care costs. A portion of the basic child support obligation is intended to 370 cover average amounts of special expenses incurred in the rearing of a child. In order 371 to determine if a deviation for special expenses is warranted, the court or the jury shall 372 consider the full amount of the special expenses as described in this division; and 373 when these such special expenses exceed 7 percent of the basic child support 374 obligation, then the additional amount of special expenses shall be considered as a 375 deviation to cover the full amount of the special expenses.
- (iii) Extraordinary medical expenses. In instances of extreme economic hardship involving extraordinary medical expenses not covered by insurance, the court or the jury may consider a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support for extraordinary medical expenses. Such expenses may include, but are not limited to, extraordinary medical expenses of the child or a parent of the child; provided, however, that any such deviation:
- 382

- (I) Shall not act to leave a child unsupported; and
- (II) May be ordered for a specific period of time measured in months.

When extraordinary medical expenses are claimed, the court or the jury shall consider the resources available for meeting such needs, including sources available from agencies and other adults.

- 387 (K) Parenting time. (i) The child support obligation table is based upon expenditures for a child in intact 388 389 households. The court may order or the jury may find by special interrogatory a 390 deviation from the presumptive amount of child support when special circumstances make the presumptive amount of child support excessive or inadequate due to 391 392 extended parenting time as set forth in the order of visitation, the child residing with 393 both parents equally, or visitation rights not being utilized. (ii) If the court or the jury determines that a parenting time deviation is applicable, 394
- then such deviation shall be included with all other deviations.
- (iii) In accordance with subsection (d) of Code Section 19-11-8, if any action or claim for parenting time or a parenting time deviation is brought under this subparagraph, it shall be an action or claim solely between the custodial parent and the noncustodial parent, and not any third parties, including child support services."
- 400

SECTION 7.

401 Said Code section is further amended by revising paragraphs (2) and (5) of subsection (k) as402 follows:

- 403 "(2) No petition to modify child support may be filed by either parent within a period of 404 two years from the date of the final order on a previous petition to modify by the same 405 parent except where when:
- 406 (A) A noncustodial parent has failed to exercise the court ordered visitation;
- 407 (B) A noncustodial parent has exercised a greater amount of visitation than was408 provided in the court order; or
- 409

(C) The motion to modify is based upon an involuntary loss of income as set forth in subsection (j) of this Code section."

411 "(5) In proceedings for the modification of a child support award pursuant to the 412 provisions of this Code section, the court may award attorney's fees, costs, and expenses 413 of litigation to the prevailing party as the interests of justice may require. Where When 414 a custodial parent prevails in an upward modification of child support based upon the 415 noncustodial parent's failure to be available and willing to exercise court ordered 416 visitation, reasonable and necessary attorney's fees and expenses of litigation shall be 417 awarded to the custodial parent."

418

SECTION 8.

419 Said Code section is further amended by revising subsection (n) as follows:

- 420 "(n) Child support obligation table. The child support obligation table shall be proposed
- 421 by the Georgia Child Support Commission and shall be as codified in subsection (o) of this
- 422 Code section."

423 SECTION 9.

424 All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
